1. GRANT OF LICENSE. Provided that Licensee is in material compliance with all of the terms and conditions of this License and is in material compliance with all of the terms and conditions set forth in the Cash Sale or Invoice, that is associated with this License (hereinafter collectively referred to as the “Receipt”), RockWare hereby grants to you (either an individual or a single business entity, hereinafter referred to as the "Licensee"), and Licensee hereby accepts, a limited, nonexclusive license to use the computer program specified on the Receipt (along with upgrades, updates, modifications, corrections, bug fixes, additions, applicable network license manager programs, or enhancements provided by RockWare that are related to such computer program specified on the Receipt), in object code only, and any documentation available for installation with this License (collectively referred to as the "Software") only as authorized in this License. Use of the Software shall be further specifically limited by the “License Type” designations in the below, section 2. No source code is licensed or provided to Licensee under this License and this License does not grant any right, title or interest in any source code to Licensee. All rights not expressly granted to Licensee under this License are specifically reserved to RockWare.

2. LICENSE TYPES.

Receipt. The accompanying Receipt provides, among other things, the Software’s title/name, level, pricing, Licensee name and address, the specification of the License Type (“License Type” as further described below in this section “2”), etc. The Receipt accompanying this Software and License, and all of the terms and conditions set forth in such Receipt, are incorporated herein by this reference and are made a material part of this License.

License Type - Single License. If the Receipt specifies that the Licensee purchased a Single License, RockWare grants Licensee the right to use one copy of the enclosed Software on one computer owned, leased, or otherwise controlled by Licensee. Access of the Software over a network or remote desktop (virtual machine) by Licensee or any other third party is prohibited. Simultaneous Users accessing the Software, whether on a networked system or by any other means, is prohibited.

License Type - Network License. If the Receipt specifies that the Licensee purchased a Network License, RockWare grants the Licensee the right to use the specified Software for that number of Users, on the number of computers owned, leased, or otherwise controlled by Licensee, and with respect to such other terms and conditions as set forth in the Receipt. Simultaneous use of the Software, exceeding the number of Users specified in the Receipt, is prohibited. For a Network License, a Network License Manager program will be provided separately by RockWare, which limits the number of Users that can simultaneously access the Software.

Terms Applying to the Single and Network License Types. A “User” of the Software is defined as an individual accessing or otherwise utilizing the features and functions of the Software. A User also includes an individual using the Software or its database indirectly by means of a third party software application or tool even if the User is not identified and monitored by the Software as a User. The Software cannot be used for any commercial purpose, and cannot be used by any person, including university faculty, staff, or students, in providing consulting services for the benefit of any third party. Not-for-profit, tax exempt, government organizations and research institutions, even if affiliated with a college or university, do not qualify for academic pricing.
